Renewable energies

This course first presents a short overview of renewable energies, including hydroelectricity, wind energy, bioenergies, hydrogen/fuel cells and solar energy, in relation to the problems of rarefied oil resources and global warning problems. Then, specific attention is devoted to solar energy and wind energy which present the most promising potentials of development in the future.

From:
https://wiki.centrale-med.fr/msct-cse/ -

Permanent link:
https://wiki.centrale-med.fr/msct-cse/reen

Last update: 2020/01/27 21:39